Forecast For Strathclyde
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Saturday 20 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Brightening up away from the coast.

Today:
A rather cloudy start with some mist and a few fog patches, most extensive over Argyll and the islands with drizzle over the hills. Bright spells developing around Glasgow and into Lanarkshire with some sunshine. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Patchy light rain or drizzle possible this evening, particularly over the islands and around the west coast. Dry overnight with clearing skies a touch of frost expected by dawn. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Sunday:
A dry and bright day with occasional sunny spells. Thicker cloud could bring some patchy drizzle to Argyll by evening. Light winds. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
It will be rather cloudy with occasional rain or showers. However, much of the rain light with some drier and brighter spells. Fresh to strong southwesterly winds at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.